Admirable Invention!

PATENT SELF HEATING

SMOOTHING IRON!

MANY important improvements have been made since the beginning of the present century relieving and facilitating the labor of men by machinery and other modern implements, but females have been nearly neglected until the invention of the Patent Self Heating Smooth Iron which will relieve them, to a very great degree, from the excessive and fatiguing labor of ironing besides being a great saving of time and expense. This Iron combines economy, convenience, saving of labor and despatch, one cent's worth of fire (charcoal or spirits of fuel) for a whole days constant ironing. Hard wood coal from the stove will answer the same purpose. It can be used in any room or in the open air. Harpers' and Tailors' Irons are constructed upon the same principle and possess equal superiority.

Extension Window Sash.

THE subscriber is prepared to furnish and put in the fixtures for the Patent Window Sash. The Sash can be taken out of the frame without removing the stop strips. It is made light so as to dispense with the necessity of double windows—the upper and the lower sash can be kept in any position when raised or lowered without weights or catches. It may be applied to old sashes—is very simple and cheap.

Rights for the several towns in this county are offered for sale.

Those desirous of obtaining the same as above can do so by calling on W A DREESER at his store, Exchange street, where a model is exhibited, or at my shop on the upper bridge.

NEW ENGLAND TRUSS MANUFACTORY.

JAMES FREDERICK FOSTER,

MANUFACTURER OF

Ratchet and Spiral Trusses,

533 (Opposite old) Washington Street, 533.

BOSTON, MASS.

ALL the various approved TRUSSES constantly on hand.

Ladies wanted upon by Mrs Caroline D Foster, who has had twenty years experience in the business.

He will keep a full supply of ready made Trusses for Gentlemen and Ladies, Youths and Infants—Abdominal Supporters of five or six different kinds such as Elastic, Chapin's Spiral Shutter, Fitch's Ingalls, &c, &c.

TESTIMONIALS.

The following certificate from Dr John C Warren of Boston was given 17 years since but will act forever.

BOSTON, Jan 5 1833.

Having had occasion to observe that some persons afflicted with Hernia, have suffered much from the want of a skillful workman to accommodate Trusses to the peculiarities of their cases, I have taken pains to inform myself of the competency of Mr J F Foster in supplying the deficiency occasioned by the death of Mr Beath—After some months of observation of his work, I am well satisfied Mr Foster is well acquainted with the manufacture of these instruments, and ingenious in accommodating the variety of cases which occur. I feel called upon to recommend him to my professional brethren and the public as a person well fitted to supply their wants in regard to these important articles.

JOHN C WARREN, M D

The undersigned take great pleasure in recommending to the invertate confidence of the sick, the highly gifted and skillful Dr James Frederick Foster, as a man of the first character for skill in the management of Hernia and fitting of Trusses. We have employed him (some of us over twenty years) and therefore speak from personal knowledge of his abilities. His early advantages, his long experience in the business and the large number of individuals who he has relieved in a variety of cases render him in our judgment equal if not superior to any manufacturer of the science. His father, Dea Gideon Foster, of Charlestown, was master of the Fire House in that town for a period of twenty-four years, during which period Mr Foster availed himself of the opportunity, and made himself acquainted with a great variety of cases with a success, some of which were of a very remarkable and distressing character.

It is well known to all who have occasion to wear a Truss that the chief excellence consists in its adaptation to the body so as to do the most good in relieving the patient. Any ordinary mechanic may make a Truss, but none but a skillful practitioner can apply it in such a manner as effectually and to lasting advantage to cure the complaint.

Our experience has convinced us that Mr Foster has thus aptly attained to a high degree of excellence in the business. The certificates of Dr J C Warren and other eminent surgeons, which he has shown to us, fully sustain the opinion we have expressed.

PROFESSOR ALEX C BARRY'S

or Medicated Compound,

FOR beautifying improving, and preserving the Hair, curing colds, bruises, burns, scalds, rheumatism and all other affections of the skin. A preparation the sale of which amounts to one million of bottles annually would seem to need no advertisement, but as the thousands who purchase, use and approve of it, have probably no idea of the enormous extent of the business done by Professor Barry, he gives here with a plain statement of facts derived from his books and with them tenders his earnest and hearty thanks to his innumerable patrons.

Professor Barry's accounts of sales for the year 1852, show that during that year about 910 000 bottles of his Tricopherous were disposed of and that the cash product of this immense sale was nearly $100 000.

This plain unvarnished tale is a better commentary on the value of the article than any thing its inventor could say. If it were not peerless in its effect upon the hair—if it were not invaluable as a household remedy for cuts, burns, sores, skin diseases, &c—it would not, of course, be so universally in demand. The wealthy portion of the public would buy it at any price, but Professor Barry has reduced it to a figure so low that the poorest can avail themselves of its benefits.

Sold in large bottles [price 25 cents] at wholesale and retail, at the manufactory and depot 137 Broadway New York and by the principal merchants and druggists throughout the United States and Canada, Mexico WestIndies, Great Britain, France &c.

VEGETABLE TINCTURE

"the Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System"

This article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by Dr Jesse Hampton, of Louisville, Ky, now in the health in the 70th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the best family medicine in use and is warranted free from all mineral substances. By its mild action on the Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all Chronic Complaints, as Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Asthma, Bronchial and Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Female Bowel Complaint, Worms, and Nervous Debility, with all diseases arising from Impure Blood. As a Female Medicine it has no equal. It will change the complexion from a pale sickly one to a blooming one.

McFarland's BURGLAR and FIRE PROOF SAFES!

A FEW of the celebrated Safes have arrived from New York and those who are in want of a superior article which has been severely tested for the last ten years in every county are invited to call and examine them. Read what the New York Press say of them in regard to the late great fire in New York. Further comment is unnecessary.

From the Journal of Commerce of August 27th.]

Heroic H B Pond & Hitchcock 116 Water street and merchants inform us that their Safe (one of McFarland's Fire Proof) at the great fire at the Pearl st House although exposed for thirteen hours to the combined effects of burning Rosin and other Oils and a broken Gas Pipe directly under it, preserved their books and papers in the most perfect order. They were not injured in the least manner."

[From the New York Evening Mirror, of Aug 27th]

"CHARLAND'S SAFES AT THE GREAT FIRE OF THE PEARL STREET HOUSE—Looking at the ruins of this great fire yesterday we noticed in Water street several of McFarland's Safes which were being taken out of the ruins the insides of which were all in good order. One of them in particular deserves especial notice. It belonged to Messrs Pond and Hitchcock oil merchants No 116 Water street and was exposed to the very hottest part of the fire, being covered with burning oil and spirits and directly under a broken gas pipe from which the gas was escaping in large quantities and producing an intense heat. It remained in this fiery furnace for thirteen hours and we are informed by Mr Pond the owner that when opened his books and papers were found to be in a perfect state of preservation not even being scorched and hardly bearing the smell of fire thus proving itself a perfect salamander. Every merchant should examine them and convince himself. Their fire proof qualities as some half dozen others of the same make were in the fire and every one preserved its contents from the least damage.

[From the New York Tribune of August 30th]

In reputation of McFarland's celebrated Fire Proof Safes have lost nothing at the last great fires as usual preserving their contents unimpaired, and saving many thousands of dollars for their owners. These safes have built for themselves a solid reputation and are adhered to at every fire. McFarland's is unique. Excelsior.

[From the New York Herald of Aug 30th]

Another convincing proof of the superiority of McFarland's Fire Proof Safes over all others as a protect on against fire, was the Safe which can now be seen at the ruins of the great fire on Tuesday last at the Pearl st House where it was exposed in the store of Messrs Pond & Hitchcock No 116 Water st for thirteen hours to the combined effects of burning oil and spirits. Books and papers inside were not even scorched.

These Safes are for sale at No 49 West Market Square Bangor.

ELLEN DANE;

OR, THE DAUGHTER'S VOW

A TALE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

BY MARY GRAND PIDGE

The following touching and affecting instance of sister's devotion occurred in a manufacturing town in New Hampshire, not many years ago. It was related to the author by the brother of the girl alluded to—now a minister in an adjoining State, and is as true as affecting.—

Ellen Dane was the only daughter of a wealthy flourishing merchant, the idol of a large circle of admiring friends, the pride of a fond father who suffered not even the winds of heaven to visit the cheek of his darling too roughly.

While he lived his strong arm protected her from all sorrow, his kind hand surrounded her with every blessing that parental love could devise, or money procure. But she had arrived at maturity before the death of her father, at the early age of thirteen.

Colonel Dane was supposed at the time of his death to be in affluent circumstances. But his estate was found to be heavily mortgaged, and after paying the debts incurred by his long and lingering sickness, there was nothing but a bare pittance left for the widow and her children.

Alas, for human nature! There were few of the many friends who fluttered around them in their prosperity, willing now to step forward to their assistance, and after struggling on for three years under the pressure of cares and burthens she was laid in a mountain, Mrs Dane sank into the grave leaving her two fatherless children to the cold mercy of strangers.

A short time before her death she called her children to her, and placing the tiny fingers of her son in the hand of her daughter, she solemnly committed him to her care. "Be a mother to him Ellen," she said laying her trembling hand upon the bowed head of the weeping girl, "be a mother to him, he will now have no one to love him but you. Promise me that you will never forsake him. By the bedside of his dying mother, amid tears and sobs, Ellen gave the required promise. "You will not be gone, Ellen, repeated Mrs Dane, earnestly, "you will not forget."

"I do so now. God forget me in my last hour, mother," groaned Ellen solemnly.

"God bless you!" my daughter was the faint response of Mrs Dane, "you have made my last hour happy. The Almighty bless you!"

That blessing sank deep into the heart of Ellen.

Pale and tearful, Ellen Dane turned away from her mother's grave—no longer a child, but a woman, with a woman's duties and responsibilities resting upon her, but unaccustomed to struggle with the world, what could she do? Whither could she direct her steps? Her father's brother offered her a home in his family, but he did not want the boy, he had quite enough of his own.—Another relative, in a distant State, proposed adopting her brother, but Ellen decided knowing but too well he would be to him not a kind protector, but a harsh and cruel master.

Ellen had heard of a far off place, where many of her own sex gained a humble but honest livelihood by the labor of their hands, and she resolved to seek it. She, therefore, sold the wreck of their property, and taking with her her brother, then but nine years of age, she began her way to the "Granite State," entering the north manufacturing town of ——.

There, with a strong hopeful heart, though feeble hand, she toiled day after day, week after week feeling well repaid for every pain, every privation by the increasing strength and healthful bloom of her young charge, who early evinced unusual intelligence, and a thirst for knowledge, which she resolved should be gratified.

A year passed lowly by and found her still toiling on. Not even the voice of love so dear to her woman's heart could use her from that lowly path. A family form sought her yet, though her loving heart plead strongly in his favor she swerved not.

"I cannot leave my brother," was her firm reply, as he warmly urged his suit. "Nor can I consent to bring to my husband a double burthen."

Vainly he argued that she had done her duty by him, that it was not right for her to sacrifice her health and every hope of happiness to his advancement. Vainly did he portray, in glowing colors the light of a happy home, the comforts with which he would surround her, she was firm.

"But your health is failing Ellen," he said, earnestly. "Your feeble frame will sink under such unremitting toil. You will die, and then what will be one of him?"

A slight flush passed over her pale cheek, and then her eyes beamed with a pure, holy light, as she raised them to Heaven.—"God will temper the wind to the shorn lamb," she murmured. "The Father of the fatherless will be with him. I will not forsake him as long as I live."

In the selfishness of his soul, he spoke of his own blighted hopes, reproaching her for giving pain to a heart so devoted to her.

Ellen was strongly moved—the tears sprang to her eyes. But firmly repressing her emotion, she calmly said, "You have a strong arm, a pleasant home, and many friends. He has only me—I will not leave him." And so they parted.

"She is incapable of loving," he exclaimed bitterly, to himself as he turned away, "utterly heartless."

Heartless! Had he seen that pale brow, heard that low wail of anguish—the touching prayer that ascended from her lips to the Great Father during the still watches of that night, would he have deemed her heartless?

At last, by the most rigid economy, Ellen gained the summit of her ambition which was to place her brother at school, in a neighboring State. Allowing herself no rest, no relaxation, she surrounded him with every comfort her slender means would allow. Denying herself every mental advantage, she afforded him every facility for study, carefully concealing from him the toil and privations they cost her.

The departure of her brother, left Ellen, as it were, alone, yet she was not alone.—He was still with her, upon whose strong arm she had ever leaned with the confiding trust of childhood.

Three, four, five years passed slowly round, yet she still pursued her quiet way—the report of her brother's rapid progress in his studies, the early talent he exhibited, filled her heart with joy, and cheered her path of toil. And, though her pale brow grew still paler, and her slight form more shadowy in its proportions, the same clear, hopeful light beamed in her eye, the same holy smile played round her lips. Though her woman's head sometimes failed her, her purpose never wavered, her strong heart never faltered.

At the close of a long sultry day in August, wearied by the day's toil, she seated herself by the open window, and resting her head upon her hand, seemed to slumber. The cool breeze mer breeze came softly in, kissing the pale cheek, and gently lifting the soft dark hair from the wan brow. The drums turned in their ceaseless motions, and the clash of iron wheels, sounding like the far off murmur of the sea, rose up on every side—yet she still slumbered on.—Kind-hearted maidens glided around her heavy looms, guiding or checking their rapid motion—the form of him, from whose quick eye nothing escaped, passed through her narrow alley—but she heeded them not. Repassing, struck by her strange position, and thinking she still slumbered, he approached her; but his eye so quick to perceive his coming, and the hand so ready to obey his bidding, moved not.

Bending his head, he spoke to her—but she answered not. He laid his hand gently on the bowed head, but it only drooned still lower. Surprised he unclasped the slender fingers from the cold brow—but he might not arouse her. She slept quietly "that sleep that knows no waking."

Amid the busy sounds of labor the wild clamor of that noisy and dusty room, her spirit had broken its earthly fetters and soared up through the dark wall and rolling drum, out into God's pure air and bright sunshine—up! up! oh, child of earth! up farther still through the dark ether blue—the regions of infinite space, to the throne of the Eternal!

Well and nobly had she performed her vow. Grave and learned doctors met in solemn conclave around her lifeless form, giving it as their deliberate opinion that she died of disease of the heart, of many years standing.

Sleek, portly citizens gave for their solemn verdict, that she "died by the visitation of God!" Strange words! vain mockery! This was what they knew of the young, loving heart that had been slowly breaking in their midst five weary years!

It was not until the heavy clods lay thick upon her gentle breasts that her brother knew that he was sinless as well as fatherless. And, though he sorrowed for her, in sinlessness of heart, it was not until he arrived at the age of manhood that he fully realized the loss he sustained—that he fully appreciated the depth of that sisterly devotion that had led her to sacrifice for him no only the spring-time of her youth and the chosen of her affections, but her very existence.

He became a minister of the Church of God, and was instrumental in winning many souls to Christ. He was the restless power of learning—the wonderous gift of eloquence. Many lips praised, many hearts blessed him. But who thought of her, whose toils and privations laid the foundation of his usefulness? Who remembered the lowly maiden who watered with her tears the seed that brought forth so glorious a harvest?

But what needest thou o the praise of man, oh, glorious seraph! stand among the white robed martyrs that surround the throne of the "Crucified!" What carest thou for the voice of earthly adulation? He who sees as man sees, who rewards not as man rewards, whose strong arm supported thee in thy weary pilgrimage below, has given thee, "that peace that passeth all knowledge," that "crown that fadeth not away."

Whig and Courier.

John S. Sayward, Editor.

FRIDAY, OCT. 7, 1853.

The Bangor Whig still affirms its opposition to the purchase of the Massachusetts Lands, and says that the editor has never expressed any other opinion. We of course feel bound to give full credit to this statement, though we hoped and supposed his own opinions had been different. In referring to other parties, we find that we were wrong in alluding to Mr Pierce. He was not present at the time we had in mind—though our first impression was that he was present when statement were made, as to the expressed opinion of the editor of the Whig, and fully commented upon by several parties, including the persons referred to by us. At the time we wrote the article we had no intention of saying anything otherwise than what was complimentary to the editor of the Whig, whose good intentions and fidelity are beyond question. We had a firm conviction from the general policy of that paper, that its influence would be strongly in favor of the purchase".

State of Maine.

We should like, right well, to know what comments were made by several parties and by the persons referred to on an opinion we never entertained or expressed, especially as the comments were after we had expressed an opposite opinion in the columns of our paper. We should have supposed that there might have been at least one in that company who could have interposed a doubt as to the correctness of the imputed opinion. However, that was at Augusta, where many strange things are both said and done. We leave the matter here with the most emphatic declaration that we have not expressed to any person, an opinion in favor of the purchase of the Massachusetts lands under any of the aspects of the case; since Massachusetts sold the best and about all the timber to individuals.

Young Men Look to your Interest

The Kennebec Journal hopefully says that "Maine is on the eve of a new era. While sharing in the general progress of the country, she is about to derive additional impetus from the new and important railroad enterprises which are going on within and around her own borders—with which she is to be so intimately connected, and which are in turn to connect her with Europe, with the Provinces, and with the whole mighty West. Her young men of the present and coming generation, unlike those of the past, are in consequence to be kept at home. They are to open and cultivate her own soil, and develope her own resources, instead of giving their energies to the development of other and far distant regions. The wild lands of Maine, therefore—not only timber but settling lands—must come into extensive demand, and appreciate very greatly in value, within the next ten years."

There is something in this view of the subject and the young men of Maine should be placing themselves in a position to profit by the new era. The State has now a very large quantity of settling lands, and it should be the ambition and the pride of the young men of the State to seek out these lands and there establish themselves in independent homes—their broadaxes they can improve by the skill and their labor, and the general course of improvements going on in the State will enhance the value of their property and secure to them an independence. The increased price in breadstuffs and provisions, and the quick cash market for all that farmers raise are making the raising business among the most profitable and desirable in the country. Let the young men of Maine now look out for their own interest.

The Japan Expedition.

A visit of three Russian vessels of war to the Chinese seas, and the statement that they were intended to watch the United States expedition to Japan, has excited considerable speculation in various quarters. It has been said that the object of the squadron was to take advantage of any opening that the Americans might effect, and be ready to propose and conclude treaties of amity and commerce with the isolated Japanese. The London Herald of a late date says the Russian squadron is probably bound to the mouth of the Segalien river. Some time since, finding himself troubled with the Tartars dwelling there, the then Russian Emperor ceded to China that tract of country north of Pekin, through which the Segalien river winds its way. It is a very fine country inhabited by a race of independent tribes, and it is thought the Czar wishes to get this country once more into his possession. The latest rumor in regard to the purpose and aims of the Russian squadron in the Chinese seas, is the following from the Wesser Gazette of Amsterdam

"It is stated that the Russian government has resolved to resist the attempts of the Americans against Japan, and that the Russian squadron which recently sailed for those seas, was intended for that purpose. The Russian Government, has sent for Professor Siebold, who resides on the bank of the Rhine to obtain from him every information relative to Japan, and on the best means to be adopted to defeat the attempts of the United States. Siebold is well acquainted with Japan, having resided there many years. The Dutch Government is said to be pleased with this determination of the Cabinet of St. Petersburg, as the Americans also threaten the Dutch Archipelago and as, moreover, the English press express themselves in favor of the Americans, and have lately begun to throw discredit on the Dutch rule in the East Indies."

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

The October term commenced its session in this City on Tuesday last, Hathaway J. presiding. After sitting till the third day and no actions being ready for trial the jury were dismissed, and the Court adjourned till Saturday next at 2 o'clock P. M., to hear motions and attend to the call of the new docket. From Saturday the Court will again adjourn to Tuesday next, at 10 o'clock A. M.

☞ The Carleton Sentinel (Woodstock, N. B.) says some three or four cases of a singular disease have lately occurred on the Presque Isle, in that county. The patient is first seized with a violent headache and high fever—he is then taken with bleeding at the nose, and vomiting large quantities of blood, and lastly the body is covered with black spots. We have heard no name given to this disease, but it very much resembles a description we have heard of the Yellow Fever.

☞ The Manchester N. H Mirror states that there was a slight fire in the Stark Mills in that city on Tuesday, which caught by friction of machinery, it is supposed, in the willow room, and quickly run through the light cotton to all parts of the picker works. It was soon smothered, drowned out, and most of the damage done was by Water. It was not great however, not exceeding in all, $1000. The machinery was but little injured, and the building but slightly damaged.

JANE SELTON or the Kings Advocate. A Scottish Historical Romance. By James Grant. New York. Stringer & Townsend, 1853.

This is a fresh and graceful romance which has made a strong impression among English readers, and will prove acceptable to all readers who delight in works of genius, sprightliness and strength. There is much to exciting interest in the varied incidents, and a grace and freedom in the utterance, giving the work uncommon attraction.

This volume makes one of the numbers of Stringer's and Townsend's Library of Standard Novels, and may be obtained at Bugbee's bookstore, on Kenduskeag Bridge.

☞ Launched, on the 5th inst. from the ship yard of Isaac Dunning, an hermaphrodite brig of 225 tons, called the Penobscot. She is constructed principally of Hacmatac, white oak, and pitch pine, and is coppered to the bends. She was modeled and has been built under the supervision of Master Jeptha Nickerson and is—what we deem high praise—one of Mr. Dunning's best vessels. She is owned by Stetson & Co., Cyrus Emery and Captain Noah Emery, who will command her.

The Hard Shells of New York have within the last week or so, formed an organization, and have dubbed it "The Democratic Adamant ne Circle." Their emblem is very appropriately a gun flint, which the members exhibit when challenged as to their political creed.

FROM CHINA.

Our California papers contain some news from China, which, although not so late as our previous advices, is interesting. We copy a few paragraphs

"From Canton we learn that the community have little dread of any disturbance taking place in that city. They are bent upon following out the amusements to which they have been so long accustomed, and that this may be done the more effectually, they have come to the conclusion of building a handsome hall, wherein balls, concerts, bal masks and other amusements, may while away the dreary hour."

We glean from the North China Herald, published at Shanghai, the following important information regarding the state of affairs at the Northern capital Peking

"The exhausted state of the Imperialist military chests is fully confirmed by the edicts and memorials of the Peking Gazettes, and by private letters from Peking. A memorial of one of the Boards stated that upwards of twenty millions of taels of silver, (equal to about $10 000,000) have been expended in these military operations, and we know it at before they commenced the State funds had not recovered from the drain caused by the payment of the English indemnity

"The Central Government has now been compelled to pay in notes, which, as they represent nothing but the emptiness of the Imperial treasury, have no value in the market. In consequence of their issue, about one hundred of the private banking establishments whose notes (for sums as low as $100 cash) form the circulating medium in Peking, closed in a single day, causing immediate embarrassment and distress among the lower classes, whose position had already become straitened from the high price of grain. Our readers are aware that the population of Peking, (comprising a paid stationary garrison of about 100,000 Bannermen and their families) are mainly dependent on the supplies sent annually from the fertile low lands on both sides of the Yang tze, as far as the Yellow River on the North, and the bay of Hongtchiou on the South. Those supplies used to be dispatched by the grand Canal, at the months of March, April, and May being in each case the contributions from the crops of the preceding year

"During the last two or three years, a portion has been sent by sea, and last year a thousand junks leaved seaward from the port of Shanghae. This year none has been sent by canal, and the whole supply thus shut by the above mentioned regions, was that contained in upwards 100 vessels which left this port about a month ago forming probably not one fifteenth of what will be required. The price of grain had tripled in Peking about a month back and its the last and only resource a high officer has recommended in a memorial that rice be brought up in Government by the local authorities, which he argues, coming as it will the southern monsoon may arrive in time to save off the apprehended distress. But it is extremely doubtful whether the authorities of Foo Keen and Fhanosa have the money, the energy, or the will, to effect such a transaction."

The Chinese empire is rapidly verging upon a state of anarchy. A private letter from Hong Kong (no date) says

"News is now coming in of new insurrections in all parts of the empire, and the fall of the old dynasty becomes hardly a matter of doubt. With a body of rebels an enthusiastic spirit of whose creed is war to the death in the heart of the country, and engaging all the feeble energies of the government, and insurrections under other leaders in nearly every province south of the Yellow River, it can not long survive.

"The ultimate result is a question only to be decided by time but the superior organization power and zeal of the Christian rebels, and their more determined spirit, may justly give us some hope that in the end they may prevail over their companions the pagans. They still remain in possession at Nankin and Chin kiang foo, and beyond some skirmishes with the Chinese foreign ships in which they are uniformly successful, nothing new has occurred

"It is much to be feared that the country is rapidly approaching a state of anarchy, a condition of things most detrimental to trade, and we are obliged further to modify our previous remarks on the prospects of business. Imports will be to a great extent unsaleable, and the amount of produce brought to market must be largely curtailed."

THE EMPEROR OF RUSSIA. The New York Mirror chronicles the following story of the Emperor of Russia

"A friend of ours who has just returned from the East thinks war is inevitable. He says the Czar is only waiting for the marshes of the Danube to freeze, when, if the Sultan does not yield to all his demands the Russian troops will sweep all before them and within six days from the first conflict, obtain possession of Constantinople. Our friend was recently present at a review of 40 000 Russian troops by the Emperor whom he describes as a perfect specimen of the physical man. In height six feet three, and admirably proportioned with snow white hair and ruddy countenance. He was plainly dressed in a dark green frock, with a black chapeau without feather, and mounted on a cool black charger, of immense size. The Czar looked every inch a King.

"As the troops were passing before him, he suddenly raised his hand as a signal for a halt, when he dismounted, walked up to a private in the ranks, and asked him to unbutton his coat. On finding that the soldier was without a shirt, the Emperor promptly ordered the officers of the Company to Siberia and the officers of the Regiment were instantly degraded to the rank of privates. Some two hours afterwards, Nicholas made another inspection of the condition of the soldiers, and finding all right, promoted every officer in the Division conferring the officers with his own hand. It is this kind of discipline that makes the Russian army the most efficient in the world, and the head of it the idol of the common soldiery."

NEW YORK, Oct 4

The steamship Crescent City, with the California dates of the 1st September, 500 passengers, and about one million dollars in specie, arrived at 10 o'clock, this evening. Amongst the treasure is $40 000 from Australia per Adams & co., the first shipment from that country to the United States.

The Crescent City left Aspinwall on the morning of the 25th. The second day out met the steamship Star of the West. Saw a ship on West Caicos, dismasted, could not ascertain her name.

A box containing £11 000 in specie had been lost in the Yarra by the swamping of a boat.

The Washington Union takes very strong ground in opposition to the New York malcontents, and if it reflects the opinions of the President, (so far as he has any opinions of his own) the whole weight of the administration will be thrown into the scale of the barnburners! The honest, straight forward, consistent "National Democrats," must be crushed. The Union says:

"The opposition has made such progress, and now assumes such an attitude of organized hostility to the administration, that it has to be met not only by the President, but by the Democratic party of the Union. We know how it will be met by the Executive—all men of all parties who communicate with him know how it will be met—it will be met with a fixed and unalterable determination to carry out the policy already adopted, relying for justification and support upon the patriotism and love of democracy, which give energy and power to the masses, but wholly regardless of personal consequences."

Bath is growing fast.—Houses are in good demand. Every ship yard is to be occupied and every street dug up. And the health of Bath for the whole season has been remarkable. Very few persons have died. And there has been no prevalent disease, unless it has been the "ship fever," which has been raging for years here, and is on the increase.—Bath Tribune.

At Liverpool cotton had declined from ⅛ to ¼ d

The aspect of the Turkish difficulty are still more threatening than even at the last accounts, and war seems inevitable from various causes and especially from the fact that the Turks are crowing to the highest pitch of enthusiasm, and even of warlike fanaticism, and they loudly and boldly call upon the Sultan to move in the matter, and at once to declare war against Russia or to abdicate in favor of one who will lead the people on to the conflict. In the mean time the great European powers are laboriously endeavoring to induce the Sultan to accept the original Vienna note. But Austria begins to show strong symptoms of breaking out of the alliance with France and England, and of siding with Russia

This news has had a decidedly depressing influence on the money market in England and will seriously affect business

John Bunyan's Immortal Allegory

PROBABLY no book, save the Bible, has been so extensively read as Bunyan's inimitable allegory

The Pilgrim's Progress,

It has been translated into nearly 80 the different languages of Christendom, and been perused with delight and holy fervor by all nations And has lent her attractions to nearly all the forms of Illustration, from the rough Wood Cut to the exquisite Steel Engraving But to the middle of the nineteenth century, and to an American clergyman, are we indebted for the only pictorial conception of this immortal work

The novel and sublime idea of embodying the entire story, and transferring the same to a single picture, showing the wanderings of Christian from the City of Destruction to the Celestial City, presenting at one view to the eye the varied scenes through which he passed, originated with Rev DANIEL WIGHT, of Massachusetts. His truly original and beautiful conception was reduced to a most elegant design by HAMMATT BILLINGS, and from this design JOSEPH ANDREWS the distinguished historical engraver has produced after four years of labor, a picture which will take rank among the most superb and elaborate productions of human genius taste and skill

The picture is now ready and will be offered at the Bookstore of the Publishers, and by Agents duly appointed by the Publishers

Price of India Proofs, $10—Prints, $5.

BROKEN China Glass, Earthen Ware and Fancy Articles of every description repaired and mended, making it as strong as before broken, without injuring its appearance

This Cement which has been proved to be of great strength, will be found particular y useful in every family, the simple manner of its application is alone a recommendation The adhesive property which it contains is so wonderful that many things will rather break in a fresh place than where they have been mended with it The variety of purposes for which it may be used are so numerous that it would be difficult to recite them Its success in mending Glass, China &c, is extraordinary, no ordinary degree of heat affecting it, and as the joints are scarcely perceptible, articles of thinkind may be made useful for years, which otherwise would have been cast away

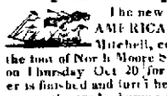
FOR CALIFORNIA,

Independent Opposition Line.



The new and splendid Steamship AMERICA 1400 tons David C Mitchell, commander will sail from the foot of North Moore Street N R at 3 P M, on Thursday Oct 20 for Aspinwall This steamer is finished and furnished in a style superior to any in the trade having a superb Dining Saloon on the upper deck and will connect with the new and unrivalled steam ship Uncle Sam 2000 tons, Wm A Mills Commander which will sail from Panama immediately after the arrival of the America's passengers, for San Francisco direct without stopping at any of the intermediate ports on the Pacific

The Uncle Sam has added to her former honors won on the Atlantic route by her unrivalled voyage around the Horn, beating all the rags ever before accomplished by six days It is confidently expected that the passengers, by this line will be landed in San Francisco within twenty-three days leading the mails from 6 to 8 days, as usual, and ahead of the passengers by any other route The character of these steamers is so well established that it would be superfluous to say they are vastly superior to any others on the route for speed and comfortable accommodations They are finished and furnished in excellent style and will be provisioned in the most liberal manner, and as low prices are the order of the day, though tickets will be issued at 5 per cent less than the Mammoth Monopoly's lowest prices in their old worn-out and slow steamers

The Isthmus roads are being put in excellent order, and the mule hire has been reduced to $6, as per Panama Star of 18th inst

Will you read the Truth.

A MEDICINE must have merit, and great merit it, too, to stand the test of public opinion No art of puffing can galvanize a worthless article so as to keep it alive as a good medicine if it be not really so

A good medicine will live, become popular, and extend its sales year after year, in spite of opposition The people readily find out its virtues, and its fame passes from mouth to mouth with more rapidity than newspapers can spread it A living witness testifying to the cure that a medicine has made for him, is of far more efficacy than any newspaper advertising

In proof of what we say above, we refer you to HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE and its effects Its praise is in the mouths of multitudes The best men in our country give their testimony to its wonderful cures Among them we name Hon Henry Clay, Hon Richard M Johnson, Vice President of the United States, with hundreds of others Capt Thomas Cannot—brother to the celebrated physician of the Emperor of France—was cured by it of a disease of seven years standing after the skill of the doctors of Europe and America had failed

In the United States Navy it is taken with great success, several officers being cured by it, officers of the Department, Washington, speak of its wonderful cures

In fact, the rich and the poor, young and old, in every place in the city and country, find the same success attends its use

HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE is purely vegetable and warranted free from all mineral substances This Tincture by its mild pleasant and safe action on the stomach, liver, kidneys, lungs, and the nervous system cures Dyspepsia Liver Complaint, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Coughs, Asthma Bronchial Affections, Consumption, Scrofula King's Evil Worms Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia St Vitus Dance Fits, Nervous Affections generally Female, Piles, Bowel Complaints with all diseases arising from impure blood As a remedy for the various derangements of the female system, it seems to have no superior

☞ What we ask of the public, in introducing this valuable medicine is to throw aside their prejudices and give it a fair trial We shall publish in this paper from time to time, testimony from persons whose reputation is known throughout the United States, and who have been entirely cured when other medicines have failed It is no humbug and the public will be satisfied that what we say is TRUE, after a fair trial

How the Discovery of the Vegetable Tincture was made.

DR HAMPTON, some time ago, this year was early in life much reduced by disease, had spent much of his living in medical service and grew nothing better but worse," when finding that none of the mineral nine heroic cures which came to hand and then bethought himself that in these when the Great Spirit provided in his vegetable kingdom that which will make me whole again? I will go and search out those roots and herbs which I have seen the Indians and the early pioneers resort to for the cure of disease I will go compound them so as to increase or decrease the quantity each man I get to be a medicine as shall cure me of my disease He did so, he carried out this idea to the SPEEDMAN, and all there I can say, any thing could be mentioned the healing powers of the roots of the vegetable kingdom In a short time, as by magic, the Dropsy was cured, the gloom cast The fame thereof spread abroad, his neighbors sent for and near by this wonderful discovery, which was freely given to them, and all just took with the same soundness, until the demand became so great that the Doctor could not in justice to himself and without great pecuniary loss, supply the demand gratis, though indeed he refused tastily by the advice of his friends to put a small price on his Vegetable tincture which was cheerfully paid, and considered but small indeed to the amount of good received by those who took his medicine—the most wonderful discovery in the healing art of the age

The world cannot produce Stronger Evidence

Than this kindly handed to us by J Stockbridge, Esq, of the Fountain Hotel Light street a gentleman extensively and favorably known The writer of the letter, Capt Cannot is the brother of the celebrated physician to Louis Napoleon President of the French Republic Numbers of our most respectable citizens will give equally strong testimony in favor of Hampton's Vegetable Tincture.

BALTIMORE June 4 1851

Mr Stockbridge, of the Fountain Hotel, Light st, Balt

Dear Sir—being on the point of leaving the city I want my self of a few items to thank you kindly for the medicine you sent me and which has restored me to the use of my hands I beg you to send me four bottles more to carry on my voyage Since I had the fortune to use Dr Hampton's Vegetable tincture my confidence is so strong that, in gratitude to the proprietors of the medicine I beg you to present my respects to them, and induce them to make it more publicly known as a sure Rheumatic cure Having called on me, on the 19th of April last, and seen me prostrated on my bed useless in all my limbs you can appreciate my feelings as well as myself the prompt relief received from Dr Hampton's tincture and I am positive had it not been for your strong and forcible recommendations I should still have been in bed

It is only a pity this specific should not be approved by medical men and like all patent drugs it should suffer the imputation the public generally give to such preparations I myself who was always opposed to a patent specific, took this medicine with reluctance, and without confidence in it, and it was only through your disinterested friendly recommendation and my critical situation that induced me to try this really beneficial Vegetable Tincture

You may inform Messrs. Mortimer & Murray that they are at liberty to make use of my name in the support of the good effects of Dr. Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, as it has cured me, in two weeks of a chronic inflammatory Rheumatism contracted under tropical climates and of 7 years protracted duration I have only used three bottles, and find that even the deformed parts of my hands are fast returning to their former natural appearance

I have been under the treatment of several physicians in London and Paris without any apparent benefit, also, while in New York having tried the Thompson and Homeopathic remedies after having been tormented with galvanic batteries cold and aromatic bath and hundreds of internal and external remedies, to no effect, I am so far cured by this Hampton's Vegetable Tincture only Therefore my dear sir, accept of the assurance of my gratitude, and believe me your well wisher,

THOS CANOT

Cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Pain in Side &c

BALTIMORE, May 1, 1852

Messrs Mortimer & Murray—Gentlemen—It is with pleasure I can testify to the great healing powers of Hampton's Vegetable Tincture My wife had been afflicted for three years, labouring under a constant hacking cough with a most violent pain in the right side, sensation of the head, and dimness of sight, very little rest day or night and much emaciation and to all appearances a rapid consumption inevitable We had the most eminent physician in Annapolis but his medicine did not give her any relief at all but growing worse if any change in the least, and having read one of your pamphlets, in July last she concluded to try Hampton's Vegetable Tincture and after taking but two bottles of which (under a kind Providence) we perceived a great change for the better her appetite improved, her skin became quite clear coughs, pains nonexistent, &c, entirely left her, and by the time she had taken a few bottles more she was completely cured, and is now in the enjoyment of excellent health

Respectfully, EDWARD SANDS,

PORTSMOUTH Va Aug 20, 1851

Mr E Bosch—Dear Sir While I am a general opposed to Patent Medicines candor compels me to state that I have great confidence in the virtues of Hampton's Vegetable Tincture. For several months past I have used it in my family and in dyspepsia, loss of appetite debilitation, and general debility, with entire success, (so far as my experience extends, therefore, I take pleasure in recommending it to the affliction as a valuable remedy.

EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF LOSS OF HEALTH, DISORDERED STOMACH, INDIGESTION, AND DETERMINATION OF BLOOD TO THE HEAD

Extract of a Letter from Mr John Lloyd, of Erwton, near Harlech Merionethshire

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

Sir,—I avail myself of the first opportunity of informing you that for a very long period I was afflicted with a dangerous giddiness and frequent swimmings in the head, attended by loss of appetite, disordered stomach and generally impaired health Every means had failed to give me any permanent relief and at length it became so alarming that I was really afraid of going about without an attendant In this melancholy condition I waited personally upon Mr Hughes, Chemist Harlech for the purpose of consulting him as to what I had better do, he kindly recommended your Pills I tried them without delay and after taking them for a short time I am happy to bear testimony to their wonderful efficacy I am now restored to perfect health and enabled to resume my usual duties You are at liberty to publish this letter in any way you may think proper

I am Sir, your obedient servant,

GREAT CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA!
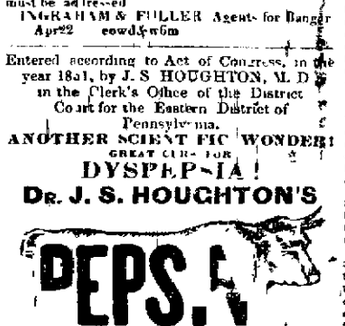
Dr. J. S. HOUGHTON'S



THE TRUE
DIGESTIVE FLUID, OR GASTRIC FLUID.

Prepared from RENNET, or the fourth STOMACH OF THE OX after directions of BARON LIEBIG the great Physiological Chemist, by J S. HOUGHTON, M D, Philadelphia Pa

"DIGEST" Such is the true meaning of word PEPSIN It is the chief element, or Great Dissolving Principle of the Gastric Juice—the solvent of the Food the Purifying Preserving, and Stimulating Agent of the Stomach and Intestines It is extracted from the digestive Stomach of the Ox, thus forming a TRUE DIGESTIVE FLUID, precisely like the natural Gastric Juice in its Chemical powers, and furnishing a complete and perfect substitute for it

This is NATURE'S OWN REMEDY for an unhealthy Stomach Neither alcohol nor any other extract possesses Medicinal properties ALCOHOL, BITTERS, AND NAUSEOUS DRUGS It is extremely agreeable to the taste and may be taken by the most feeble patients who cannot eat a water cracker without extreme distress

Beware of DRUGGED IMITATIONS. Pepsin is NOT A DRUG

Half a teaspoonful of Pepsin infused in water, will digest or dissolve Five Pounds of Roast Beef in about two hours out of the Stomach

SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE

☞ The Scientific Evidence upon which this remedy is based is the highest degree Curious and Remarkable

Call on the Agent and get a Descriptive Circular, gratis, giving a large amount of Scientific Evidence, from Liebig's Animal Chemistry, Dr Combe's Physiology of Digestion, Dr Pereira on Food and Diet, Dr John W Draper of New York University, Prof Dunglison's Physiology, Prof Silliman, of Yale College, Dr Carpenter's Physiology, &c, together with reports of cures from all parts of the United States

PEPSIN IN FLUID AND POWDER

Dr. Houghton's Pepsin is prepared in Powder and in Fluid Form—and in Prescription vials for the use of Physicians. The Powder will be sent by Mail, free of Postage, for one Dollar, sent to Dr Houghton, Philadelphia.
